DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 6, 7 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Doblar et al. (U. S. PAT. 6,338,144).

In claim 6, Doblar et al. teaches all claimed features in Fig. 1, a circuit comprising: a clock signal source (12) providing a differential clock signal (Ck, /Ck); and a configurable buffer circuit (16) for receiving the differential clock signal and providing a clock signal output for a plurality of load circuits (20a-20c), wherein the configurable buffer circuit achieves a constant bandwidth (col. 4, line 28; uniform propagation delay result in constant bandwidth) and voltage level for the clock signal output while adjusting to alterations (selected electrical impedances; col. 4, line 28) in the number of load circuits coupled to the configurable buffer circuit, wherein noise immunity is increased (noise immunity is greatly improved; col. 6, line 27).

In claim 7, Doblar et al. further teaches the circuit of claim 6 wherein the configurable buffer circuit (16) further comprises a differential amplifier circuit (26) including a programmable output impedance circuit (28) and a programmable current source circuit (I).

Method claims 1 and 2 correspond to detailed circuitry already discussed similarly with regard to claims 6 and 7.

Claim 13 corresponds to detailed circuitry already discussed similarly with regard to claim 7.

3. Claims 3-5, 8-12 and 14-18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
